The Veteran's Life Center of North Carolina (VLC) is a holistic, residential program designed to help at-risk, 21st Century military veterans - who have been unable to make a successful transition into civilian life – become self-reliant within 2 years or less.

Opened in 2020, VLC was conceived in 2010 by a group of Iraqi War veterans to help solve the problems many service members face after their military service. These issues can include PTSD, Traumatic Brain Injury, Depression and Addiction.
