

IT WAS 1969 and I was in kindergarten.

My saintly teacher, Sister Donna Marie, took our class on a field trip to WEBR-AM in Buffalo, NY

The minute I walked into that radio station control room...BOOM!

Everything changed for me.

Ev-er-y-thing.

I knew instantly my life would always include a microphone.

My Dad was New York State High School Oratory Champion and Mom had long wanted to work in broadcasting at a time when women didn't do that. So, while my 5-year-old self didn't realize it, my broadcasting obsession was probably genetic.

From securing my high school's first-ever radio station internship to hosting Dayton, Ohio's #1 rated Saturday night request show on a 50,000-watt radio station while only in college, I've been behind a microphone almost ever since.

Consistent requests from early radio advertisers for my commercial production and live announcing work financially and spiritually confirmed for me that I had a future in voiceover.

For over 40 years, that broadcasting and voiceover work has been the foundation of my company, audio'connell Voiceover Talent. I voice commercials, narrations and broadcast promos for clients like IBM, Tic Tac Mints, iHeartMedia, Amazon Web Services (AWS), Crest Toothpaste, Lowes Home Improvement, SiriusXM/Pandora as well as Duracell Batteries.

In 2016, we O'Connells packed up our Conestoga wagon and ventured from our longtime home in Buffalo, NY (#gobills) to Raleigh, NC (near Research Triangle Park), where my Source-Connect equipped, professional recording studio today serves media producers world-wide
