

audio'connell Voiceover Talent Launches Web Exclusive for Top Female Voice Talents

RALEIGH, NORTH CAROLINA – March 3, 2025 - - Voiceover production company audio'connell Voiceover Talent has launched a new section on its website - audioconnell.com - which is also main site for male voiceover talent Peter K. O'Connell.

The new page and domain, femalevoicetalents.com, showcases audio demos and contacts for the top national and international female voice talents in the industry.

Voice actor Peter K. O'Connell, who owns audio'connell Voiceover Talent, said the addition of professional female voice talents to the audioconnell.com voiceover website serves two purposes.

"I often help media producers find the right voice talent – in addition to me – for media projects. This new female voice talent web page, which includes female voice actors I have known for years, makes those recommendations easier. It also reinforces for media producers that I'm here to serve them not just as a voiceover performer, but also as a voiceover producer," O'Connell said.

In addition to their voiceover demos for commercials, narrations, telephony, radio imaging, explainer videos, e-learning and character voices, the voice actresses' profiles will include email and website links so producers can contact them directly.
